SKETCHES OF LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

BY O. O. McINTYRE
Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Majestic, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Broadway Extortion Crowd, known by some as waiters, are up to new tricks in the gilded cafes. It is a gentle little form of highway robbery—that is they do not stick a gun in your face and do not wear masks.

It used to be that when they wanted to sink the javelina in the patron's wallet they put the change under the bill so that if you were one who did not count the change they were so much ahead.

The new gouge is used when the party may be a little spiffy from too much booze. After the first round the waiter serves the bill but he doesn't pay it in. He submarines it in his jeans.

After the second round he presents the new double bill and so gets paid for the first round again. Just how often he reports the procedure depends on the unimagined nerve of the waiter. Waiters' nerves, it is believed by Broadwayites, are made of cast iron.

Robert Hastings Goodman doesn't profess to be a vocalist, but that is no reason why he should be insulted. He was singing at the Friar's Club the other evening. He had finished one song when George Parsons turned and thanked him.

"Oh Bob sing it over," said Mr. Parsons.

"Yes," came from Dick Carle, "over in Jersey."

Brooklyn, which is across the creek from New York, is looking for a slogan. Something with a little pep and only five words. Just one of those punchy little lines that will make any man die almost with longing for the place.

Several thousand suggestions have been made. One that is favored is "Don't Go West, Brooklyn's Best." Still another is received with acclaim. It is "Brooklyn uber Alles." Evidently the trolley dodgers have no sense of humor.

From far away Kansas City comes another from Dr. F. M. Planck, who has lived in Brooklyn at odd times while taking post graduate courses. He suggests "A Live Wire City." This is very subtle indeed and also zippy for Brooklyn has more trolley wires than any other city on the globe and a lot of them fall and tickle unsuspecting bystanders now and then.

The writer motoring (in a friend's car) passed by the park known as Poe park on the upper edge of the Washington boulevard in the Bronx last Sunday. It is a picturesque little spot surrounded by ornate apartment houses and provides a breathing spot for hundreds.

In one corner is the little white one story frame house where Edgar Allan Poe lived and where he wrote many of his stories while suffering from the actual necessities of life. The house is open at all times for visitors.

Before passing the park a gentleman in the party who has just written a novel that is on its third edition was discussing literature and its rewards. He passed Poe park abloom with budding flowers. "It is a pity," he said, "that Poe did not get a few flowers while he was living."

Among the new and odd piscatorial specimens at the aquarium is one that captures flies by lying on the surface like a piece of wood until the insects are comfortably settled. Then the fish gobbles them up and goes to the bottom of the tank to digest them.

Every Cold Should Be Considered Serious

So say the best medical authorities. Unless promptly checked, often they lead to chronic bronchial and pulmonary troubles which may prove fatal.

If your cough or cold has not responded to treatment—and remember, medicine should not be solely relied on—timely use of Eckman's Alternative may give you relief.

For more than twenty years it has been benefiting sufferers from these disorders. It is especially indicated where the system demands lime, for it contains calcium chloride so combined as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

Safe to try—because it contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs of any sort whatsoever.

Spray Your Fruit with PYROX

Pyrox protects your orchard against the ravages of both insects and fungus, and makes it possible for you to grow marketable fruit and lots of it.

There is nothing complicated about its use; it is an insecticide and fungicide combined, and when applied, rapidly dries, forming a coating unaffected by even the heaviest rains.

Ask any orchardist what he thinks of Pyrox; then call and get a copy of our new and interesting booklet. We sell Pyrox because we know what it will do—any quantity you want, in small casks, kegs or barrels.

Remember—use Pyrox for Fruit and Potatoes.

SPRAYS
